BARBOURVILLE, KY., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1919

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR IN ADVANCE

CITY STREET IMPROVEMENT

The Mountain Advocate is unequivocally in favor of the contemplated street improvement for the following reasons:

First—Street improvements raise the value of property very much in excess of the value of the improvements put in.

Second—We are trying to make Barbourville a great educational center and such improvements will appeal to those who wish to educate their children at Barbourville. Up-to-dateness in these matters is greater than is generally recognized.

Third—We must make a start sometime and put ourselves on a level of progress with other cities.

Fourth—There will not be a person who now may oppose the work, who would go back to the old condition when the work is completed. This is not prophecy, but the personal observation of the editor, who while secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, Mineral Wells, Texas, put through some thirteen miles of bitulithic street paving. The same carried by four to one and the greater portion of dissent disappeared when the benefits were observed. Write the Chamber of Commerce and verify this statement.

Fifth—Barbourville, like Mineral Wells was on a great National Highway and could not afford to be held up to the gibes of every tourist who passed in a car.

Good streets, like good roads are a permanent advertisement.

Sixth—Good streets will result in a larger population. People of means who have children to educate, finding they do not live in Barbourville, will move here and feel that they are in an up-to-date town.

Seventh—We use electric lights in the place of candles, gas instead of coal cooking stoves, linotype machines instead of setting type by hand, one of these machines costs as much as a whole plant, woven clothing in place of the sheepskins of our forefathers, sewing machines and automobiles. We do this because it pays and good streets come under the same category.

Instead of retarding the work, got behind the administration which has had the nerve to push the work and in the future you will be glad that you were not numbered with those who sought to prevent the consummation of a City Beautiful.

Incidentally hold up the hands of your Fiscal Court in their great work for good roads.

It means thousands of dollars annually to have tourists coming through the city.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK

Mountaineers Built Good Church Road.

Rev. S. C. Presnell, Sabbath School Missionary of the Buckhorn Presbyterian Church, gave an instructive address on Sunday School work among the mountaineers of his district. Starting with two Sunday Schools and faith in God's blessing on his work these were increased to twenty-seven Ousley County. Where he found pessimism, one may now find Sunday Schools. The county holds an inter-denominational Sunday School Convention and in many places where the gospel message was not heard oftener than from one to twelve months the people learn of a Savior's love Sunday by Sunday.

On the heels of this work family prayer has followed and the splendid, viril, people of these mountains are progressing from strength to strength thru laborers in the Sunday School work.

Some of the things for which the New Era movement is working are, committees to watch for anything that retards the work of the church; family worship; a blessing at meals; training young people for leadership, including teachers to handle classes and young peoples societies; department of organization including the question of lessons and promotion in grade schools; organized Bible class; church membership; and communicants class.

An interesting statement showed the practical side of churchmanship. A bad road made it difficult for people to get to church and they overcame the difficulty by building a good one. That was certainly applied Christianity which should be general all over Knox County.

IMPORTANT NEWS

Mr. C. M. Cole, employed by the County as assistant engineer, states that they hope to put limestone macadam rock all along the route from Corbin to Bell County on the Dixie Highway, the work to be completed this year. All but the grading is finished and as soon as the weather opens up the work of laying the macadam will be begun. Hats off to the live bunch who are lifting us out of the mud.

Every dollar spent in town circulates from one to the other of us. Mineral Wells figured its increase from this source as having paid for the work within one year.

MAKING A JOYFUL NOISE HERALDING WORLD'S GREATEST MISSIONARY EVENT OF THE CENTURY

The Methodist Centenary Trombone Choir of 100 instruments is here shown leaving the stage in recessional. At the head is Frank M. Sutphen, director. This is the first time 100 trombones ever have been organized into a single musical unit. Above, at the left, is S. Earl Taylor, director general of the celebration, of New York. At the right is W. B. Beauchamp of Nashville, Tenn., associate director general of the celebration, representing the Methodist Church South.

ONE hundred trombones, mobilized for the Methodist Centenary Celebration in Columbus, Ohio, June 20 to July 7, will pour forth the harmony of "Hallelujah Chorus" and "Holy City" in the huge Coliseum where the musical features of the celebration will be held.

One hundred trombones—come no large and some so small that they must be made to order—will blend their music in the largest, and, so far as is known, the only choir of its kind in the world.

Being absolutely new and unique, the trombone choir has presented any number of difficulties to its organizers, the Centenary Celebration committee. In the first place, they must find 100 trombone players within reasonable distance of Columbus. They solved this problem by mobilizing all the professional players, and completing the organization with talented amateurs. Anthony Ruppensburg was made business manager of the choir, and Frank M. Sutphen, a well known trombonist of Columbus, was secured as director of the 100 musicians, who are contributing their time and talent to making a success of the Centenary Trombone Choir.

A greater problem lay in what to play, for no music had ever been written for a trombone choir of 100 players. It had to be specially prepared. Nationally known composers are now at work arranging such sacred and semi-sacred selections as the "Soldiers' Chorus" from Faust, "Holy City," "Hallelujah Chorus" and "Onward Christian Soldiers" for the huge choir.

The Centenary Choir is composed of 12 soprano trombones, 18 altos, 40 tenors, 18 baritone and 12 bass trombones. These 100 instruments are arranged to form six separate choirs, each a musical unit in itself. At the extreme right of each bank, or choir, come two soprano trombones no larger than cornets. These instruments are made to order. Next come three altos, then two first tenors, and two second tenors. In the center of each row are the third and fourth tenors. Next come the first, second and third baritones, each with a part of its own, then the big B flat bass trombone, and on the end of each choir, the E case, a majestic affair, which also had to be made to order for the Centenary Choir.

"Most people have the mistaken idea that the trombone is a blaring, blasting instrument, used solely for the purpose of making noise," says Mr. Sutphen, the director. "On the contrary, it is one of the truest of musical instruments. Having neither valves nor frets, it can be tuned perfectly as it is played, and its tones can be softened to the mellow notes of the violin."

"So adaptable is the trombone, so wonderful is its power of expression, that it can take the place of flute, cello, cornet or violin, in an orchestra. And the same variety of tones may be perfected in a correctly balanced choir of trombones as the largest organ can produce."

ARGUS PUTS IT OVER

On Friday night, at Union College Argus, the magician, nimble of tongue and deft of hands, played with invisible things made visible and visible things made invisible, no le hacc cual as our Spanish friends say. He even raised the audience on their tiptoes and kept them there. Gales of laughter blew over the hall and the flu germs must have hit the high spots in a hurry since no one appears to have sickened and died since the show. Argus is an all right entertainer and several of our citizens are ready to swear that he has a habit of finding what was not there and of restoring everything but hair on a bald head. He might succeed with that if he gave his mind to it. We have patented the suggestion and let him have it on a royalty basis.

LYRIC CLUB GOOD.

Misses Nell Louise Dougan, vocalist and reader; Alice Williams, vocalist; Blanche Mann violinist; and Marie Hesson, accompanist, delighted an audience at Union College Saturday night with their repertoire. Miss Dougan not only has a charming contralto voice, but is a splendid reader. Her negro and Italian impersonations were fine. Miss Williams is a simpatia young lady and greatly pleased with her voice and choice of songs. Miss Mann handles a violin so that it expresses music and Miss Hesson as a piano soloist made the instrument sound like a gay ripple of sylvan streams combined with the wandering wind among the trees. Encores were the order of the evening and Barbourville will be glad to encore them back again.

DR. FRANKLIN PROGRESSES

As the years go by Dr. E. T. Franklin gets older. However, age is a wonderful mellow and in the thirty-eight years which have passed since the President of Union College first saw the light, he has done much. To be president of a college at his years is not only a distinction but is proof that he has those constructive qualities which make for success. While working on his life work, he has gained the love and esteem of his fellow workers in the educational vineyard and this was well proven on Monday night when the members of the college faculty in company with friends and neighbors, surprised him with a birthday visit. About thirty were present and a most enjoyable evening was spent in games and in a musical program. Misses Brady and Wilcox and Mr. Petty Franklin and Prof. Robt. H. Burnett contributed recitations, songs, piano solos and operations on the sonorous big bass viol. The decorations were in keeping with George Washington's birthday. Miss Cora Sevier won the prize in the flag contest, a handsome book of poems.

Dr. Franklin was wearing his coat unbuttoned on Tuesday to display a handsome watch chain on one end of which was a pen knife and on the other a fob. His face wore a "I've had a present" expression. The chain was a gift of the faculty and other guests present. May his shadow never grow less.

M. E. CHURCH

February 23rd, 1919, letter day" for the Methodist Church in Barbourville. Not an unusual crowd but those who were present the call of the Heavenly Father.

President Franklin, brought us the Holy Ghost at the Most High was upon us. His text was Cor. 3:16. laborers together we were a discourse from the Holy Ghost at the Most High was upon us. There were more than eighty who pledged themselves to the Lord one tenth of a century. What could be more for tithing is the acid for his Heavenly Father the evening service than eighty who pledged themselves to the Lord.

At 6:30 P. M. the Epworth League met and elected officers:

President, Mrs. C. C. Jarvis.
1st Vice President, Mrs. Jones.
2nd Vice President, Mrs. Jones.
3rd Vice President, Mrs. Jones.
4th Vice President, Mrs. Jones.

Secretary, Miss Latha. Treasurer, Miss Robert. Pianist, Miss Daisy Rob. Chorister, Collie Franklin. The League meets at Sunday evening and if you place to go you are invited and enjoy the helpful open to all young people close at 7:15 so you can preaching service at church.

We wish to note the stest of our "Minute Meetings" are enjoyed by all.

WOUNDED AT AR

Through pressure of we failed to record the February 15th of Priv. King, of Bailey Switch, who was wounded at the Argonne Forest, France.

Private King was a 4th regular army and of wounds serving his country.

Arriving at Bordeaux was transferred to the he received a rifle shot arm while serving under. He was in the hospital to September 18 and then to the Argonne Forest, part in one of the most fights in history. After three hours he was gassed in the hospital until Oct. turning to the front, fought until October 23, captured appendix put him in the hospital.

He was honorably February 14 and is now subject to call for four years.

U. C. BEATS MARYVILLE; WILL PLAY U. T. SATURDAY

On Friday night at the gymnasium, Union College put one over on Maryville by a score of 37 to 23. This was sweet revenge for the defeat of U. C. which was administered by the Maryville boys on the Maryville floor February 17.

The visitors had a fast and heavy team, but our boys made up for the lack of weight by their playing which went like a well oiled machine.

On Saturday night they will be pitted against the famous team of the University of Tennessee, who recently trailed the colors of the University of Kentucky in the dust and wiped up our boys on the U. T. floor on February 18.

A battle royal is promised and no one who likes the thrill of such a game can afford to miss it. Be there and root for U. C.

That Terrible Headache.

Do you have periodic attacks of headache accompanied by sickness of the stomach or vomiting, a sallow skin and dull eyes? If so, you can get quick relief by taking Chamberlain's Tablets as directed for biliousness and you may be able to avoid these attacks if you observe the directions with each package.

Why Do Louisville People Choose The Louisville Herald As Their Morning Newspaper?

The answer is very simple: Louisville people prefer The Herald as their morning paper because they know that The Herald is, first of all, a newspaper.

That it is always first with the news when it is news; that its news is authentic; that it may be depended on.

These are the primary reasons why most Louisville people when buying a morning newspaper choose the Louisville Herald as their favorite morning newspaper.

All The News Of The World, The Country, The State and The City

is furnished daily to Herald readers, through the medium of such news services as the Associated Press, the Universal Service, the Newspaper Enterprise Association, and other foreign cables.

News of the world of sports is more than the tabulation of sporting statistics as compiled for The Herald's sport page. It is different, in that the human element is considered—The Herald's sport page is the first of all interesting, then entertaining, then instructive.

The financial world is thoroughly covered by the financial page, giving the latest reports of the various stock exchanges and bond markets, and keeps one fully informed as to the latest quotations on all fluctuating commodities.

In addition to its news features you will find daily in The Herald among other interesting features, a Fountain Fox Cartoon, "Bringing up Father," an Edgar Guest poem, Tad's "Indoor Sports," brilliant editorials, a magazine and women's page; you'll find, in fact, in each copy of your Herald something for each member of the family.

Give your local agent your order now; if there is none in your town send in the coupon below with your subscription. Sample copy on request.

Dreadful Cough Cured

A severe cold is often followed by a rough cough for which Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has proven especially valuable. Mrs. P. W. Olson, Maryville, Mo., writes: "About two years ago my little boy Jean caught a severe cold and coughed dreadfully for days. I tried a number of cough medicines but nothing did him any good until I gave him Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It relieved his cough right away and before he had finished taking one bottle he was cured. I think it is just fine for children."

KNOXFORKE NEWSLETS

Uncle Thomas Johnson, who has been sick several years with that dread disease tuberculosis died Sunday, February 23rd. He leaves a wife and eleven children to mourn for him.

John Steele who lives at Corbin and who is under bond for the killing of Matt Asher last September, was visiting friends near Jarvis Store and while there attended church at Calahan Sunday night. Some one shot through the window at Steele, the bullet just grazing his scalp. It is not known who fired the shot.

Everybody is beginning to farm as the frogs in the ponds are signifying that Spring is near.

Chester Fee visited home folks this week-end.

SOL T. STEELE RETURNS

Attorney Sol T. Steele is back from Camp Taylor where he attended the State Demobilization Training Conference.

He states this was an interesting conference at which many vital problems were discussed.

Among these were, "Civil Needs of the Community and Methods of Obtaining them," which included good roads and street improvement, proper school houses, ventilation of public buildings, comfort stations, sex hygiene, efficient teachers with increased salaries and many other subjects along the same line.

Economics were also discussed which included the question of employment for discharged soldiers, night schools, thrift campaigns, etc.

Social and religious questions received much attention, community singing and picnics being urged. The Boy Scout movement was praised, and the interlocking of church interests with those of the community was urged.

WOMEN'S STUDY CLUB NOTES.

Mrs. Raleigh Jarvis was hostess to the Women's Study Club Tuesday afternoon, February 18th.

There were sixteen members and visitors present—Mrs. Nerval Cobb, of Warren, Ohio, and Capt. and Mrs. Leslie Logan, of this city.

After a short business session, Capt. Logan, in response to an invitation tendered him addressed the club recounting his experiences "over there" as well as his work in the base hospitals.

It was a rare treat to listen to these experiences, told in his own inimitable way, especially to those who were members of his First Aid Class.

Much interest and curiosity was manifested in the souvenirs brought back from France. A German helmet from the battle of Verdun, one of the famous French 75 shells and a pair of quaint wooden shoes such as are worn by the peasants of that country.

Knowing the ability of this gifted man as we do we were a little fearful that army life might cause him to seek a broader field for his labors, but we are indeed happy by his statement that he intended to remain among his "kin folk".

After adjournment the hostess served an elegant salad course. The Club's next meeting is with Mrs. J. A. McDermott, March 4, 1919.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS ENTERTAIN

A very delightful luncheon was served Monday at the home of Mrs. C. F. Heidrick by Miss Mary Agnes Heidrick, Drucilla Tye, Nellie Jones and Roberta Cole.

The guests were Mrs. Tye, Miss Weeks, Miss Wilcox, Miss Van Huse, Mrs. McDermott, Mrs. Burman and Mrs. Heidrick.

Last week, the same young ladies assisted by several others served a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Tye. The result of these happy gatherings to do household things has been the formation of a Camp Fire of Which Mrs. Burman has been asked to be guardian. This wholesome organization encourages all domestic tendencies and physical exercises and no doubt will be both profitable and a very great pleasure for all.

DEATH CLAIMS FRANK SEARS

The death of Mr. Frank Sears, of Bryants Store, occurred on Thursday morning, February 27 following a brief illness. Mr. Sears came to Barbourville to be with his son, Willie, who had contracted influenza while attending school here and the father was stricken with the disease complicated with pneumonia.

Deceased was an upright citizen who had the respect of the whole community and his demise will be a distinct loss to Barbourville and the community in which he lived.

The remains were taken to Poplar Creek cemetery for interment. A wife and several children survive him. He was a brother to Jason Sears of the firm of Croley & Sears.

NOTICE—FIRST MEETING OF CREDITORS

In the District Court of the United States for the Eastern District of Kentucky.

In the matter of Union Supply and Saving Co., Bankrupt, in Bankruptcy No. 410.

This week has been set aside all over the United States for this purpose.

Getting Rid of Colds.

The easiest and quickest way to get rid of a cold is to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This preparation has been in use for many years and its value fully proven. No matter what remedy you use, however, care must be taken not to contract a second cold before you have recovered from the first one, and there is serious danger of this. A man of middle age or older should go to bed and stay in bed until fully recovered. It is better to stay in bed three days at the start than three weeks later on.
